DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-7 and 25-34, drawn to an intermediate frequency filter having an adjustable capacitor array having an effective capacitance value adjustable through the use of a plurality of programmable data storage locations.
 - II. Claims 8-12, drawn to a single integrated circuit having an amplifiers, oscillators, mixers, control module, and an intermediate frequency filter, wherein the filter comprising an adjustable capacitor array having an effective capacitance value adjustable through the use of a plurality of fuses.
 - III. Claims 13-21, drawn to method of tuning an integrated circuit (IC) comprising the steps of testing the IC, adjusting the capacitive array, and repeating the testing.
 - IV. Claims 35-36, drawn to an intermediate frequency filter comprising a first filter stage having an adjustable capacitor array having an effective capacitance value adjustable through the use of a plurality of programmable data storage locations, a second filter stage having an adjustable capacitor array having an effective capacitance value adjustable through the use of a plurality of fuses, and a third filter stage having an adjustable capacitor array having an effective capacitance value adjustable through the use of a plurality of fuses.

2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because:

Inventions Group I, Group II, Group III, and group IV are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, subcombination Group II has separate utility such as a filter having an adjustable capacitor array having an effective capacitance value adjustable through the use of a plurality of fuses, subcombination Group III for method of tuning an integrated circuit, and subcombination Group III for having a plurality of filter stages. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

3. Because these inventions are independent and distinct for the reason(s) given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown above by their recognized divergent subject matter and a different field of search is required for each group (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper

4. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of an invention or a species to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

5. The election of an invention or a species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

6. Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
